Your meeting point for a self-determined life

Are you looking for information and consultation for your individual needs? Would you like to exchange ideas with experts and meet like-minded people with similar experiences? Would you like to know what kind of progress has been made that could benefit you? If so, then visit REHACARE 2017. The international trade fair provides important impulses to enable a self-determined life for people with disabilities, with chronic illnesses or in need of care. At this event, the emphasis is on you and your concerns.

From 4 to 7 October 2017, affected people and their relatives will find facts for all possible problems in a structured and understandable form in Düsseldorf: innovative medical aids, barrier-free travel destinations, new therapies, legal adjustments, up-to-date developments in medical care, rehabilitation, inclusion, etc.

Let us provide you with insight about the current state of the developments with regard to social participation, self-determination and care with dignity.

With culture, fun and action

In addition to REHACARE's comprehensive range on offer, entertainment at this event will definitely not be overlooked! For example, on Thursday (5 October), Gaby Köster, who has been in a wheelchair since her stroke in 2008, will read from her novel "Die Chefin" at the forum Living with Care @home. Directly afterwards, the actress and comedienne will answer the questions from the people attending.

Cyathlon Show and Record races will provide a great deal of action: with wheelchairs or robotic exoskeletons, a competition will be held round an obstacle course where the participants have to master certain situations. Navigating stairs and slalom are just two of the many disciplines. The Sport Center also offers many opportunities to enjoy athletics: the complete Hall 7a is dedicated to visitors, who would like to try out different kinds of sports for people with disabilities, be it track and field, table tennis, badminton, archery or numerous other offerings.

A top-class supporting programme

There is always much going on at REHACARE. With a tour through the exhibition halls, you will come across forums or theme parks; you can listen to lectures or visit seminars. The range on offer leaves nothing to be desired:

Four days long at the REHACARE Forum, various topics will be treated. These topics deal with questions regarding everyday life of affected people, participation and inclusion, provision of aids and much more. Furthermore, interesting, innovative products will be presented.

The forum Living with Care @home discusses several aspects of diseases amongst elderly people and the need for medical care resulting from this. During four days, the event is dedicated to issues with regard to wounds, dementia, palliative medicine and exercise that arise for nursing relatives and nursing services concerning the subject of medical care at home.

At the REHACARE Congress, specialists meet to analyse the development of age-appropriate living quarters and to exchange experiences interdisciplinary. Admission with a separate ticket.

For more information, visit www.rehacare.de/congress

The Sports Center is the active focal point of REHACARE and entuses with interactive activities and information on the various possibilities to remain fit and active for people with a disability or the elderly.

The theme park People with Disabilities and Employment offers support for problems at the work place. Exhibitors suggest possibilities for support and make consultation offers for people with disabilities in order to stimulate inclusion by means of active participation in professional life.

The Kid's World takes care of the little trade fair visitors and keeps them entertained with playing, craft activities or romping. The integrative childcare will professionally take care of small children, while the adults are concentrating on their trade fair visit.

Travel organisers, hotel accommodations, tourism companies and associations are on location in order to present the latest trends and offers for accessible travelling for the disabled.
