POST SHOW REPORT

Biggest Exhibitor Line-up Attracts RECORD-BREAKING Crowd!

Indonesia's leading 3-in-1 exhibition for the plastics, packaging and printing sectors closed on a high note earlier this month, bringing together 22,479 trade visitors and industry professionals from 34 countries. The biennial trade exhibition continues to improve its position on the global front as Indonesia's most synergistic mega exhibition with its expanding participation from international players. The latest edition offered a comprehensive business platform catering to the entire end-to-end supply chain for the plastics, packaging and printing industries from 372 exhibiting companies from 20 countries and economic regions, the exhibition's biggest line-up to date.

“With the healthy response that we have gathered from all fronts for this edition of INDOPLAS, INDOPACK (incorporating INDOPROCESS) and INDOPRINT, we are already planning for an even bigger show in 2018.”

Mrs Rini Sumardi
Managing Director, WAKENI

“The strong showing in participation signifies the growing opportunities in Indonesia and the region. The overwhelming response further underscores INDOPLAS, INDOPACK (incorporating INDOPROCESS) and INDOPRINT as a strategic exhibition for industry players.”

“INDOPACK and INDOPRINT gave Heidelberg Indonesia the stage needed to showcase to the market that we have a good partnership with Masterwork, one of the best packaging companies around. The exhibition provided a golden opportunity for us to present and demonstrate our machine.”

Mr Raymond B. Wonojudo
Head of Sales & Marketing,
PT Heidelberg Indonesia

“We have many visitors showing plenty of interest in our products. We just concluded a business discussion with one of the suppliers here and we are looking forward to more business opportunities that we have gathered from this exhibition.”
