POST SHOW REPORT 2022

Leading platform for the Turkish industry

TOS+H EXPO 2022 extends its leading position in the occupational safety and health sector in Türkiye.

111 companies from nine different countries took part in the 4th edition of Türkiye's leading trade fair for occupational safety and health, TOS+H EXPO, from May 14-17, in Istanbul. Due to the ever-increasing importance of personal protection, occupational safety and a healthy workplace, TOS+H EXPO came just in time. Exhibitors were able to target a Turkish audience with the latest trends and products in industrial safety, health promotion at work and occupational safety management. The Occupational Health and Safety Symposium, which was organised by the Istanbul Chamber of Industry (ICI) was also very well attended on all four days. Current occupational safety and health issues were addressed and provided important impulses for establishing a prevention culture in companies in Türkiye and its neighboring countries. A total of 4,309 visitors from 58 countries attended the 4th TOS+H EXPO.

TOS+H Expo 2022 and the Occupational Health and Safety Symposium organized by the Istanbul Chamber of Industry were officially opened on May 14, 2022 by Sadik Ayhan SARUHAN, ICI Vice President and Ms. Petra Cullman, Executive Director Messe Düsseldorf GmbH. The new partnership with the Chamber of Industry will ensure the quality of the event and also strengthen the leading position of TOS+H Expo in Türkiye.

"The Occupational Health and Safety Symposium, which we organized simultaneously with the 4th TOS+H Expo - Turkish Occupational Safety + Health Exhibition, was concluded with the presentations of 84 speakers in 22 sessions. Our symposium included highly interesting presentations on the environment, sustainability and labor law and was met with great interest by all parties and especially by representatives from all industrial sectors which deal with the topic of occupational safety and health at work. As ICI, we will continue to work to improve OHS processes in the next period", said a spokesperson for the Istanbul Chamber of Industry.

TOS+H Expo is held by Messe Düsseldorf GmbH, who also organises A+A, the world's leading trade fair on occupational safety and health at work in Düsseldorf, together with the local partner Tezulas Fuar.

We were very happy to be able to attend this year's TOS+H expo after a long time of putting physical events on hold. The exhibition allowed us to regain the face to face interaction with our key customers, end-users and proved again how important events such as these are. We look forward to participate again in two years from now.

IMPRESSIONS AND TESTIMONIALS

After a long break from face to face events It was so good to be under one roof with all key players, customers and end users of the Occupational Safety and Health sectors. TOS+H Expo 2022 was well planned and executed by Messe-Duesseldorf and their Turkish counterpart Tezulas Fuar. Looking forward and started preparation all ready for the next one where we will reach bigger audiences with more advances solutions and services that will help drive the future in this sector. ProtectOne, ProtectAll.

As Ejendals Turkey team, we had the opportunity to attend the fair for the first time. It was a busy fair and we had good meetings. Our company has made a serious investment in Turkey and our team is growing. Of course, we sincerely want to participate in the organizations in the future. We had the opportunity to meet with our customers, whom we could not meet face to face due to Covid, and to explain ourselves and our products to our targeted customers. Regardless of the sector, we hosted everyone concerned about Occupational Safety at our stand. Our special technologies and services have attracted a lot of attention. There was great interest in our analyzes with a special sole scanning device.

TOS+H is an essential organization for us regarding the value it adds to the sector. The 2022 fair has also taken its place in our records and memories as a successful organization within the framework of our expectations. We would like to thank everyone who contributed to this organization where we came together with our members and potential members, together with our general assembly held simultaneously with the fair and in the same building. As the only representative association of the PPE market, we are ready to cooperate again in 2024 and grow the market together.

3D Ear Lab, which highly cares for the importance of human health, participated at TOS+H to present innovative and technological solutions to industries related to occupational health and safety. As 3D Ear Lab, our main priority is to use the most advanced technology to produce innovative products suitable for human health and anatomy. We had the pleasure of presenting our custom-made hearing protection ear plugs at TOS+H, which is a fair specifically visited by companies looking for new products and solutions. As a Turkish company, we were very proud to see the intense interest of local and global companies in search of innovation. By participating at TOS+H, which is visited by companies from varying industries who are experts in their fields, ensured that our products would reach the right target audience. Before the fair we could not foresee that there would be interest from some a wide range of industries, this has shown us that there is a high percentage of companies that value health and work safety of their employees. We were highly motivated to see that the leading companies in Turkey are ready to use technological and new products. We will definitely attend the next fair and present new and improved products. Thank you, TOS+H!"

Like in the old years, we had the opportunity to introduce our products and services by taking our place in the fair again this year. TOS+H is a good opportunity for us to learn both the point the market has reached and our place in the market. We used to get together with our current partners and we left behind a nice fair where we met new people. There were deficiencies, of course, but we will remember the pluses more of the organization. We hope that we will come together again in two years and expand both our business and our friendships. Thank you to everyone who contributed.
